

View from the artist's studio

View from the artist's studio.
On the left stands the bake oven clay where she was baking her works.

View from the artist's studio.
On the left stands the bake oven clay where she was baking her works.

Vice, oxy acetylene welding equipment and mask from the artist's studio.

View from the artist's studio taken after the artist's death

View from the artist's studio taken after the artist's death

View from the artist's studio taken after the artist's death

View from the artist's studio taken after the artist's death
On the right stands the bake oven clay where she baked her works and the molds of her works at the bottom (of the photograph)